Mur Lafferty to host the all-new Angry Robot podcast

Beginning in July 2010, Angry Robot will be broadcasting a new podcast series. Broadcast monthly, the 30-minute podcast will take the form of a joint interview with two Angry Robot authors or staff, along with genre and publishing news and a monthly competition to win Angry Robot titles.

The host and interviewer is Mur Lafferty. Mur is one of the world's best-known and best-loved podcasters, and the co-author of the book Tricks of the Podcasting Masters. As well as hosting her own immensely popular podcast for wannabe writers I Should Be Writing, she was also recently announced as the new editor of Escape Pod - the world's most popular short fiction podcast.

Mur commented: "One of the things I love most about podcasting is the chance to talk to so many talented authors. I'm thrilled to get the chance to chat with Angry Robot authors; it's an honor to be producing a show for one of the newest and most exciting SF publishers around."

The podcasts will be broadcast from the Angry Robot website, and will be downloadable as a subscription through iTunes. The first podcast interview will feature Angry Robot Publishing Director Marc Gascoigne and Editor Lee Harris, talking about the history of the imprint, the move to new partners Osprey, and the future. August's guests are Angry Robot authors Lauren Beukes and Kaaron Warren – and you can believe that's going to be an interview worth tuning in for!
